Volcanic Little Island on Invasion Route To Sicily and Italian Mainland Undergoes 18th Aerial Attack

COMMANDO ATTACK IS MADE ON LAMPEDUSA

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

Shattering new assaults on Italy's "Gibraltar" at Pantelleria and a British commando attack on Lampedusa Island were announced by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's headquarters today, while in London the belief persisted that momentous operations were imminent.

"Official news of landing expected this morning," said Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express, headlining the siege of Pantelleria.

The volcanic little island, athwart the transMediterranean invasion route to Sicily and the Italian mainland, underwent its 18th successive day of aerial attack yesterday after rejecting an Allied ultimatum for unconditional surrender.

At the same time, American heavy bombers from the Middle East kept up the pounding of Italy's Sicilian stronghold, blasting the airdrome at Gerbine and the town of Catania, and RAF planes swept over the Aegean Sea to strafe Axis ships off Nazi-occupied Greece.

Italian headquarters listed 41 killed and 91 injured in an attack by multi-engined bombers at Catania.

Confirming previous Axis reports, Allied headquarters announced that British commandos raided Lampedusa Island, 80 miles south of Pantelleria, on Monday night, apparently as part of the "war of nerves" against invasion-worried Italy.

A communique said the commandos encountered fire from two field guns and machine-guns on the beach in Monday's attack, but suffered few casualties, and withdrew after accomplishing their mission.

New Regime In Argentina Is Recognized

Four Latin American Countries Favor Ramirez Government

OTHERS WILL FOLLOW

Buenos Aires, June 10.—(P)—Recognition of President Pedro Ramirez, new Argentine government—which has promised closer cooperation with the American republics—moved steadily forward today among other Latin American countries, with four already having acted and others expected to follow soon.

The foreign office last night announced recognition by Brazil, Bolivia, Paraguay and Chile in that order.

(Dispatches from Madrid said Spain also had recognized the new government and from Montevideo came word that Uruguay may take similar action shortly.)

The provisional government set up by Gen. Ramirez on the heels of last Friday's coup d'etat meanwhile won increasing support from various Argentine factors, indicating it was effectively consolidating its position.

From a source close to former President Ramon S. Castillo, who was ousted in the revolt, came a report that even he had expressed the hope the Argentine people would back Ramirez in the interests of national stability.

Pressure on Australia Is Being Lifted

Canberra, Australia, June 10.—(P)—Prime Minister John Curtin indicated today that the time is approaching when the Allies' strategy of defensive warfare in the southwest Pacific may give way to a policy of limited and perhaps full-scale attack upon the Japanese.

"The holding war imposed on us under circumstances of great difficulty has been an obligation under global strategy which has been discharged," Curtin declared. "I feel the pressure on this country is to be thrown back on the enemy."

The prime minister's declaration was part of a formal statement issued on the basis of his meetings at Sydney June 7 with General Douglas MacArthur, Allied commander.

Hundred Thousand Gas Masks Distributed In Pennsylvania

Harrisburg, June 10.—(P)—Some 100,000 gas masks have been distributed among the state's civilian defense volunteers, the state defense council disclosed today following President Roosevelt's warning to the Axis against the use of poison gas.

"The president did not specify that a gas attack was expected against the American homeland, but military leaders have warned that we should be ready in case gas is used," said C. L. Siebert, gas consultant for the council, in a statement.

Seventeen Out of Every 100 Fathers May Be Inducted In Service Before Another Year

Drafting of Those With Children Born Before Last Sept. 15 Coming Later

MILLION MEN NEEDED

BY CHARLES MOLONY
Washington, June 10.—(P)—A draft-age father's chances of being inducted into the armed forces before next year appeared today to be about 17 out of 100.

And the chances next year may be even lower unless heavy casualties require unexpectedly large replacements.

Former fathers generally will be deferred for occupational reasons, but the outlook for others sums up like this on the basis of latest War Manpower Commission-Selective service figures:

Drafting of those with children born before last Sept. 15 is not expected to begin before Aug. 1, and even if it starts then it is unlikely to become general and heavy for another month at least.

There are nearly 6,000,000 draft age (non-farm) fathers—only about 4,000,000 of them at most could be expected to be physically acceptable—and the armed services will take in but about 1,500,000 men in all between August 1 and Jan. 1, 1944.

Toward making up this 1,500,000, the services get around 70,000 of them. (Turn to Page Eight)

Air Battles Increase on Soviet Front

BY WILLIAM MCGAFFIN
Moscow, June 10.—(P)—Increasingly vigorous air battles were reported today from widely separated points of the front as the German air force and the Soviet plane fleet continued to fight it out in a prelude to a 1943 land offensive.

Dispatches from Bataisk, 10 miles south of Rostov, disclosed that air fighting had flared up again in the Don River valley. The vicinity of the city and the mud flats of the Don have become a cemetery for downed Junkers and Heinkel planes, it was reported, with anti-aircraft batteries scoring heavily in the struggle. Gasoline Restrictions Will Not Be Extended

Washington, June 10.—(P)—Secretary Ickes flatly told the Eastern States Oil Committee today that there is no immediate plan to impose present eastern gasoline restrictions on the middle west.

The interior secretary and his deputy petroleum administrator, Ralph K. Davies, both said that building up reserves in District 2, embracing middle western states, would have little effect in the east because transportation facilities are lacking to carry the additional supplies to the Atlantic seaboard. MASS RAIDING BY AMERICANS IS OUTLINED

Eighth United States Air Force In England to Carry Full Share of Bomber Offensive

STRENGTH IS DOUBLED

BULLETIN
Folkestone, England, June 10.—(P)—Squadrons of Allied fighter planes swept across the channel in the direction of Calais late today for a sweep against Axis targets in northern France.

London, June 10.—(P)—The current summer will find the Eighth United States air force in England carrying its full share of the bomber offensive against Germany with multiple daylight raids, Major Gen. Ira C. Eaker, its commander, disclosed today.

Eaker told a press conference that the American heavy bomber force had doubled in size since March and would approximate the RAF's bomber strength by the end of the summer.

Reporting that the U. S. AAF in Britain increased from 15 to 30 per cent monthly and has doubled since March, the general said "the size of the present force will be doubled between October."

He said the American Flying Fortresses and Liberators would continue their precision raiding in daylight with relatively small individual forces rather than adopting the British mass raiding technique by night or day.

Eaker's disclosure followed a statement from a reliable source here that a unit of Flying Fortresses had been assigned to undertake night-bombing experiments from Britain with the RAF.

Meanwhile, Eaker said, American fighter and medium bomber forces in England also are growing rapidly and will be ready to play a full part in supporting Allied troops in an invasion of Europe.

American bomber losses for May were under four per cent, Eaker said. During the month more than 1,600 heavy bombers raided the continent, including those that went twice or more, and dropped 2,800 tons of bombs on 19 targets. Sixty-two of the big planes were lost, but they shot down 359 enemy craft and probably destroyed 93 more.

American fighter forces made about 2,300 sorties, Eaker disclosed, losing nine planes while destroying 35 Axis craft.

Eaker said that while Fortress crews are being trained in night flying to add flexibility to their tactics their main job will continue to be done by daylight.

Decline in Supplies Later In Year Anticipated By Federal Agencies

METHODS ARE STUDIED

Sacramento, Calif., June 10.—(P)—Milk may be the next commodity to be rationed, a federal authority disclosed today.

The War Food Administration (WFA), the Office of Price Administration and the dairy industry are studying ways of limiting civilian consumption of milk, expecting a decline in supplies later this year, said E. G. Stitts, chief of dairy and poultry in the WFA.

Stitts, in a speech prepared for delivery before the California Dairy Council, said food officials had concluded that the government must curtail consumption of fluid milk or cut down on the manufacture of such products as butter, cheese, evaporated and dried milk. The latter alternative was said to be out of the question because manufactured products now meet only essential military and civilian needs.

These four methods of limiting consumption of fluid milk are under study, the dairy official said: Rationing of fluid milk on a coupon basis, somewhat like gasoline; restricting transportation of milk, thereby limiting, and possibly reducing, the size of urban milk sheds. This would cut out the importation of so-called "emergency" milk brought in from long distance. (Turn to Page Eleven)

TOT HIGHWAY VICTIM

Gettysburg, June 10.—(P)—Judith Wells, 2½-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wells Huntington township, Adams county, was found dead in the highway outside her home by her mother yesterday. State police reported the child apparently had been struck by an automobile.

Legislation To Dispose of War's Surplus

Washington, June 10.—(P)—Over administration opposition, congress was in the process today of setting itself up as the super-salesman of all time, with an estimated $50,000,000,000 of surplus war materials as the bill of goods to be sold.

The house passed and sent to the senate late yesterday legislation to set up the machinery for disposing of the surplus as soon as the last gun of the war is fired, and the selling probably will be under direct congressional control.

The preliminary measure provides for creation of a joint committee of five representatives and five senators to study the situation and recommend a suitable setup.

Ignoring a presidential suggestion that the budget bureau take over surplus equipment, members of the house committee on expenditures in executive departments declared the sales program, if not properly handled, could wreck the nation's economy.

While the exact value of surplus material expected to be an hand after the war cannot be determined, Rep. Manasco (D-Ala.), a committee member, said indications were it would be not less than $50,000,000,000.

Pine Grove Resident Instantly Killed Walking on Highway at An Early Hour This Morning

Albert G. Lauffenburger, 64, life-long resident of Pine Grove township, was instantly killed this morning about three o'clock while walking on state highway number 62 between Venturetown and Russell, a short distance south of the Jackson Run road intersection, when he was struck by a truck operated by Matthew A. Gatto, 716 Pennsylvania avenue, east, well-known local wholesale produce distributor.

Mr. Gatto told investigating officials that he was en route to Buffalo for a truck load of fruit and vegetables, accompanied by an employee, Frank Robinson, when the tragedy occurred. He said he was driving at a moderate speed when suddenly the form of a man loomed in front of his machine. He pulled to the right in an effort to avoid an accident, but the pedestrian was struck by the left light and fender of the car. He was knocked some distance and when officers arrived the body was in the highway just north of the dividing line between the right and middle lanes.

A member of the state police was called and the Peterson ambulance summoned. When it arrived it had been established that Mr. Lauffenburger was dead. He apparently was killed instantly, having sustained a fracture of the face and skull. Coroner Ed Lowrey was accompanied to the scene by Deputy Sheriff L. E. Linder, who joined the state police in the investigation. Measurements showed that Mr. Gatto had stopped the truck in less than 75 feet from the point of impact. After completing the inquiry the coroner decided no inquest was necessary and the body was removed to the morgue of the North Warren State Hospital where it was later examined by physicians. The body showed the following bruises: swelling on the left side of the forehead; on the right side of the temporal bone, indicating a fracture at the base of the skull. There was also a bruise in the skin overlying the fracture. Other bruises were noted on the chin and hands.

The officials have been unable to learn where Mr. Lauffenburger spent the evening, but it is assumed that he was walking toward the State Hospital where he has been employed for the last six months. Relatives stated that he was enjoying a few days' vacation at the time.

The left light on the truck was broken and the fender damaged by (Turn to Page Eleven)

Anti-Strike Bill Framed By Committee

Measure Intended to Outlaw Walkouts in War Industry Prepared

HOUSE PLANS ACTION

Washington, June 10.—(P)—An anti-strike bill so broad it might be used to outlaw walkouts in any war industry emerged today as a congressional challenge to labor controversies that interrupt production on the home front.

Its punitive features polished by a joint conference committee, the measure goes today to a house that often has voted restrictions on organized labor only to see them languish and die in the senate.

Whether it will get quick action there or wait a possible settlement of the coal wage dispute at which it primarily is directed, remained to be seen. Also in doubt is President Roosevelt's attitude toward the measure, which in substance would provide:

Authorization for the president to take over mines or plants in which a work stoppage has occurred or is threatened, outlawing strikes or lockouts in such cases.

Requirement that the WLB hold its decisions within the confines of the labor relations act, a move sponsors said is designed to prevent the issuance of closed shop or union maintenance orders.

Drastic Move Made To End Philadelphia To Pay 75c DOZEN FOR EGGS Disturbances

Philadelphia, June 10.—(P)—The Office of Price Administration predicts that the price of grade A eggs will reach 75 cents a dozen in the Philadelphia area in October and November.

The OPA made the prediction yesterday in "rolling back" the price of butter four to six cents in the area while advancing the egg price one to two cents a dozen and warning that the price of eggs may be expected to rise a cent a week.

HEARING SCHEDULED FOR ROOSEVELT KIN

Media, June 10.—(P)—A juvenile court hearing is scheduled tomorrow for William Donner Roosevelt, 10-year-old grandson of President Roosevelt, in the fatal shooting last Sunday of his playmate, A. Lewis Hutchinson, 11.

A coroner's inquest is scheduled for next Tuesday in the shooting, which occurred in the home of young Roosevelt's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Donner Winsor, former wife of Col. Elliott Roosevelt.

Boy Murderer Attacks Sister

Pittsburgh, June 10.—(P)—George S. Jennings, assistant chief deputy sheriff, said 17-year-old Earl Perry, after confessing in court to the rape slaying of a 4-year-old girl, attempted to attack his sister, Gilda, 15.

Jennings said he was taking Perry to a restaurant yesterday when the youth broke away from deputies guarding him, doubled up his fists and lunged at his sister.

It was Gilda to whom Earl first confessed that he had killed the baby, Theresa Williams. Gilda in turn told her mother, leading to the discovery of the child's body in the basement of the Perry home.

When Earl sprang at her, Gilda leaped behind an officer for protection and the youth was overpowered.

"I wouldn't be in this trouble if it weren't for you," Jennings quoted Perry as shouting.

The youth is now kept handcuffed to an officer.

CONFUSION IN NEGOTIATIONS COMPLICATED

Peacemal Pact Affirmed By Both John L. Lewis and Spokesman for Northern Mine Owners

HIKE OF $1.30 PER DAY

Washington, June 10.—(P)—Secretary Ickes said today that miners who participated in the June 1-7 walkout from government-operated pits would be fined in accordance with their contracts which usually provide penalties of $1 per day if a miner fails to work without good reason.

Ickes acted as federal boss of the mines.

Most of John L. Lewis' 500,000 odd United Mine Workers were out from June 1 through June 5, making them liable for fines of $5 each for the five-day absence from the mines. Under the contracts, the penalty money goes to selected charities.

Ickes, adding that fines would again be levied if another walkout takes place before or after the present truce ends at midnight, June 20, declared that before last week's walkout "we told the miners we were going to fine them if they went out again."

The fines, he said, will be taken out of the next pay envelopes issued to the miners since, he reported, their latest wage payments already had been made when the walkout started June 1.

By the Associated Press

Washington, June 10.—One group of coal operators broke from the deadlocked Appalachian joint wage conference today and made a separate peace with John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers.

The agreement, between the Central Pennsylvania Producers Association, employing 65,000 men, and the U. M. W., was reported to all for a wage boost of $1.30 a day for underground travel time. Lewis originally sought $2.

Fight Trainer Enters Denial

White Plains, N. Y., June 10.—(P)—Benny Woodall, 31-year-old former fight trainer, "might have kissed Mrs. Dempsey on leaving or arriving on a train," but he was not intimate with her and their friendship was just casual.

So testified the slight, fidgety Woodall, named as co-respondent by Jack Dempsey in his divorce suit against his wife, Hannah Williams Dempsey, before a packed courtroom yesterday.

He denied having been asleep in Mrs. Dempsey's bed in a New York apartment, as earlier witnesses testified, and said he had never been alone in his New York hotel with the one-time Broadway singer who appeared in court yesterday for the first time since the opening session May 25.

In answer to questions about a raid on Mrs. Dempsey's Los Angeles apartment, which witnesses for Dempsey had described, Woodall said he had a few beers and had fallen asleep on a living room sofa when the raiders entered.

Local Teachers To Benefit By Pay Increase Legislation

Members of the teaching profession in public schools of Warren borough and in other boroughs and school districts of the county will benefit yearly by a sum approximating $81,000 as a result of state legislation providing for subsidies for a two-year period of wartime emergency.

Of this sum, approximately $21,000 will apply to teachers of Warren borough and the remainder of $80,750, to the county school districts.

Where teachers have been subject to increments apart from the recently enacted legislation, these salaries have been met by the local district, being in addition to whatever the state has appropriated as an emergency subsidy.

Figures secured today from Superintendent John G. Rossman for the borough of Warren shows one teacher eligible for the $300 subsidy, 14 for $250, 84 for $200 and 4 for $150, making the borough total $21,200.

Borough schools have turned in the past year to a number of former instructors for substitute work in classes where regular instructors were on sabbatical or other leave. Plans for next term are very indefinite as yet, since a number of teachers have made application for various branches of government service and the Selective Service Act will undoubtedly account for others. However, at an adjourned meeting of the board of education to be held on June 21, it is anticipated that a few replacement elections will be acted upon.

According to County Superintendent H. L. Blair, county instructors total 214, with 154 teaching elementary grades and 60 in high schools. Of grade teachers, 140 will now be in the $300 bracket and 14 in the $250 category. Of those in high schools, 15 get above the $1,500 figure and will receive $200, the remainder standing in the $250 classification.

Attention of the high school graduates is also called to the training which is afforded at the machine shop school, where they will be able to make more money than is usually paid. This applies especially to the girls of the senior class to whom several classes are open. They are urged to enroll at the Employment office as soon as possible.

KINZUA

The eighth grade commencement exercises were held in the Kinzua school building on last Friday evening, the guests of the evening were invited by the graduates, of which there were five, only four were present, the fifth member, Samuel Wallace, has accepted a job out of town. Those present were Donald Sheldon, Donna Zerbe, Joyce Kell and Hubert Carpenter. The room was decorated with the class colors of green and white, with large vases of flowers predominating. The motto chosen was "We Will Succeed."

The following program was given:

Invocation; piano solo, "Nola"; Mrs. W. Boyd English; class history, Hubert Carpenter; class prophecy, Joyce Kell; class solo, "The Bells of St. Mary's"; Mrs. English; "Our Country"; Donna Zerbe; "Random Remarks by a Piece of Chalk"; Mr. Robert Leonard; presentation of diplomas, Mrs. Elisabeth Thompson; "America," audience.

Donna Zerbe received the highest score in the county examinations, by request her essay on "Our Country" is as follows:

Here we are all together, glad to be in America, the most fortunate people in the world, at least we think so.

In this country you can argue politics, religion, baseball, war and peace until you are blue in the face and still admit the other fellow is perfectly all right but any kind of argument is dangerously near Nazism in other countries. We show the spirit of sportsmanship, shown by Roosevelt and Wilkie, who fought all over the place until the whistle blew, and then shook hands.

If our country is to be united and strong we must work together and make ourselves into one solid nation.

We Americans are natives of all the world, gathered here under one flag, in the name of Liberty. When ever men stand together in defense of freedom, we feel the call of comradeship. We know the name of Liberty in any language and at any time.

Following the program the seventh grade, assisted by the principal, Mrs. Byrnes, served the graduates and guests with ice cream and cake.

Richard Johnson Seaman, of Warren, is one of the winners of May competitive examinations for high school students, according to results just announced by Dr. Francis B. Haas, superintendent of public instruction. Winners receive scholarships valued at $100 annually for state institutions of higher learning. Young Seaman, planning the study of law, has not completed definite plans for continued schooling.

KIWANIS SPEAKER

Speaking to Kiwanis Club members at their luncheon-meeting at the Hotel Carver Wednesday, Attorney A. C. Flick, Jr., solicitor of Warren borough schools and Warren county, described the various types of taxes assessed and methods of collection; also emphasized the advantages of paying when billed and outlined a chronological account of billing and collection. P. E. Nelson, program chairman, announced that a farm-and-home program for next Wednesday would be most timely.

FILED AN APPEAL

Frank Nicolazzo, of Kane, who conducted the Fairmount Hotel at Youngsville when it was damaged by fire recently purchased the European Hotel at Corry. Filing an application for a license he was refused by the State Liquor Control Board which alleges that Nicolazzo is not of good reputation and ineligible for a license on account of arrests and convictions for liquor violations which resulted in the revocation of his license at Kane. Liquor control agents visited this section some time ago checking up on Nicolazzo both in Youngsville and Warren.

RAID ALARM TESTS

During the past few weeks an effort has been made to ascertain from the heads of the various Councils of Defense over the state opinion as to the number of air raid test drills that should be held each month. There seems to be a general opinion that too many tests are being made that the people are getting careless due to the number arranged. It is also expected that a test will soon be given during which a transition will be made from the "blue" signal following a "red" signal back to the "red" again. As this situation might occur during a real raid it is felt that such a test should be made.

County Saves Much Money On Children

Warren county's board of commissioners have been putting in some busy hours of late in an endeavor to solve the problem of caring for children that have become wards of the county. When the board working at present took office they discovered that the county was caring for 89 children in foster homes, outside of the Hoffman Home, which has a capacity of 40 children. The home, however, is not filled to capacity at present, nor has it been for some time past.

P. C. Ostergard, president of the board, and the other members studied the situation and today the county is only caring for 35 children outside of the Hoffman Home. This is a fine achievement as the cost to the county is $4 per week for each child being cared for in a foster home. Conditions have been changed during the past year and many men and women have secured work that otherwise would not have been able to take it and care for their children.

The Army Air Transport Command now operates over more than 90,000 miles of routes.

SHOWDOWN INEVITABLE

John L. Lewis has been forced to back water in his defiance of the United States of America. It may be that an armistice will be signed without further hostilities, other than verbal.

It will be unfortunate if we permit such a superficial victory to throw us off guard, to divert us from the quest for permanent machinery for handling such situations.

The United Nations can not win this war, even now, unless this country sticks everlastingly to the job of production. Our preponderance of material strength is too slight, too tenuous, to permit us to go back to business as usual. We can not afford to have the coal mines shutting down for a few days at a time whenever some bumptious man takes the notion. We can not afford to have the production of synthetic rubber, of ships, of planes, of tanks, of aviation gasoline and munitions, subject to stoppage for any cause whatever.

As soon as Lewis caved in, temporarily, the thought was thrown out that we could forget anti-strike legislation, because everything had become rosy.

That is a short-sighted attitude. It was not merely Lewis' defiance of the government that made anti-strike legislation desirable. The coal situation merely dramatized the need, which had existed before and will continue to exist.

Regardless of what happens to Lewis and his series of strikes against the security of the United States, a showdown has to come on the general question whether anybody is entitled to let down our soldiers, sailors and marines who depend upon the product of our factories.

NOT TOO LATE TO PLANT

Home owners in and about Warren are reminded that it is not too late to plant that Victory Garden, in spite of the wet spring, according to agricultural officials both in Harrisburg and Washington.

A very material way to help win the war is by engaging in a type of work that is both pleasant and healthful. Plant a Victory Garden and thereby help to raise the food that is so much needed to feed our people and those of the United Nations.

Economically the plan is of considerable value since it can ease the home budget, help meet the tax bills and defense stamp buying and, too, it will take a considerable load off transportation.

The farm industry will not suffer since demands upon it are expanding and there is a shortage of farm labor.

There is another virtue in the garden idea. It is a solace and a nerve-easing occupation in a world torn by tension. It is one of the best counter-activities for a strenuous day at work.

It is a form of recreation more likely to be beneficial because, unlike so many other things at which we play, the average American simply cannot go at it with the same energy he puts into his work—which is what most of us do.

CHANCE TO PARADE

According to the "Official Orders" for Flag Day appearing on another page of this issue, a treat is in store for folks who either love to march or enjoy watching a parade, next Monday evening.

Sponsored by the Warren Lodge of Elks a special effort is being made this year, because of the conflict that is raging throughout the world, to make the event just a little more imposing than usual. With five musical organizations and a score of marching units it seems quite certain that the parade will be one well worth viewing.

It is not too late for extra marching delegations to register for appearance. This may be done by notifying the Times-Mirror or the Elks Club. It is interesting to note that there is but one restriction and that is there shall be no motor vehicles in line, and those in charge are to be commended for this decision.

TIME TO CALL A HALT

Too many motorists willing to disregard the ban on non-essential driving are chasing fire trucks in the borough. According to reports quite a long string of cars were driven late Tuesday night to the vicinity of Allison street and Pennsylvania avenue when the department answered a call which proved to be a false alarm. If they only realize it such automobile owners are not only guilty of actions considered very unpatriotic at this time, but are running chances of being cited for violating the ban on pleasure driving which could result in loss of their rationing books.

What It All Adds Up To

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD — "Mission to Moscow" has been on display only a month now, so perhaps it's a little early to expect the Russians to return the compliment by filming a "Mission to Washington."

When it does—if it does—it should be a simple job. All they have to do, following rules of international courtesy, is to adhere to the formula which seems to have guided Warner Bros. in making a movie of former Ambassador Joseph E. Davies' book.

Just let them picture us as practically perfect folks, blessed by saintly, practically infallible leaders, struggling along the best we can—but cheerily—with our world political system.

They could make a pretty good picture, at that, without altering the line of "Mission to Moscow" at all. They would have, of course, to keep the character "President Roosevelt" intact. They could do no less than depict Ambassador Davies as he is shown in "Mission to Moscow"—a capitalist, but an open-minded seeker for the truth.

And they would, in all graciousness, tip their hats to the Warner Bros., just as the Warner film does.

IT WOULD be frightfully crude of them—and we are sure they wouldn't be crude—to point out that in Washington there is a tiny bit of confusion, that though all factions are united in the win-the-war crusade there still are factions, together with a bit of suspicion that people are still playing politics while decrying same.

And of course, if the Russians are diplomatic, they would not attempt to touch upon such of our internal set-ups as the O. P. A., the W. P. R., the N. L. R. B., and other alphabetical agencies. ("Mission to Moscow" mentions the OGPU, the Russian secret police, only in passing—and then most kindly.) They would skip all that, and picture us only as a liberty-loving, fearless people—which we are.

ALL of which could be taken as a quarrel with "Mission to Moscow." It is not.

My own reaction to the film was, "Wonderful. But true?" Hearing Mr. Davies, a gifted raconteur, tell informally the same stories that are told in the movie, I found them completely convincing. Seeing them enacted on the screen, I was struck with the essential weakness of films as a propaganda medium. They are simply too good at it. They are excessively glib.

They have the gift—or fault—of making a one-sided argument so one-sided that it invites skepticism. This film tells us so much of what we want to believe—that Russia and its leaders are spiritual as well as military allies of ours—that I found it cloying.

For all that, "Mission to Moscow" is certainly unique among Hollywood films. It doesn't bother with conventional plot or drama, but uses the documentary-narrative technique. It takes its point of view (that Russia, Roosevelt, Davies, Stalin and the Warner Bros. are all wonderful) and never departs from it. It damns American isolationists as it does Russian Trotskyites, sparing neither.

It has already started a whirl of controversy—and therein may lie the picture's ultimate good.

Stamp News

RUSSIA, which has done more than any other member of the United Nations to publicize its war effort through the medium of postage stamps, again takes the lead. The designs of two new sets portray the Soviets' fight against the Axis invaders so closely and with such timeliness that the stamps actually form a pictorial news story of the war. Originally issued in January-February of this year, the stamps have just reached this country.

A Moscow description of the stamps says they were issued "in connection with the splendid victories of our glorious Red Army on the fronts of patriotic war" and describe different military episodes. As an example of the timeliness of their designs, one stamp depicts the defense of Leningrad, where the 17-month-old German siege was broken January 18 of this year. The sets are made up of five and six stamps respectively.

The six-stamp set is phototyped on white gummed, unwatermarked paper and is perforated. The designs emphasize the work of the Army, although guerrilla fighters appear on one stamp and a war plant worker on another. The descriptions:

- 60 kopek—Defense of Leningrad, illustrated here. Gray-green in color.
- 20 kopek—Anti-tank artillery hitting an enemy tank. Black-gray.
- One ruble—Red Army men on intelligence service. This stamp portrays an advance patrol equipped with a small cannon mounted on skis and machine guns. It is a brown-black.
- 30 kopek—Signalmen at work. Bright blue.
- 30 kopek—Guerrilla fighters attacking an enemy position. Illustrated here, this stamp is dull green.
- 30 kopek—A worker at his machine, turning out shells for the front line troops. Copper brown in color. This stamp carries the slogan "All for the front! All for victory!"

Count Andrew Hadik, a famous Hungarian soldier who was a hero of the Seven-Year War, is portrayed on a new 10-filler brown stamp from Hungary. A 20-filler red brown of the same series shows the crown of St. Stephen with its bent cross.

From Portugal comes a 10-escudos dark red in which is apparently a new regular series. A 16th century caravel sailing through the sea with a five-star flag flying against a background of stars is depicted.

Youngsville Discusses New Curfew Law

Youngsville, June 9—At the council meeting held in the borough building Monday evening, it was voted to have "Cleanup Days" June 18 and 19.

An ordinance, number 180, fixing certain fire limits and regulating the construction, reconstruction, alteration and repair of buildings in the borough of Youngsville and imposing penalties for violations passed first and second readings.

It was decided by the council that all matters requiring the services of a health officer be handled by the state health officer and that the borough continue with the present board of health.

The sidewalk committee was requested to make an inspection of the sidewalks of the town, noting all properties having sidewalks needing repairs and all those that were being overrun with grass. Property owners whose walks are in the latter conditions are to be notified to clean these walks at once.

There was a discussion concerning a curfew ordinance for Youngsville borough. No action was taken at the meeting, but it was decided to carry over to the next meeting when some definite action will be taken.

SAD NEWS FOR RELATIVES
Youngsville relatives have received word of the death of Donald Wert while in the service of his country in North Africa. The young man was killed in an airplane crash in mountainous country on May 13. The word, however, was not received here until this week. Donald Wert was a nephew of Mrs. Carrie Horner and the own cousin of Mrs. Lyle Thayer and Ralph Horner. Donald Wert's home is Aaronsburg, Pa. His parents have received word from his commanding officer, telling all that is known of his death and of his Christian burial in Africa.

LIBRARY NEWS
Use and interest in the Youngsville public library is increasing since it is located on Main street. A new schedule of hours when the library is open has been made. The library will be closed on Wednesday afternoon instead of Tuesday as formerly. This is a more logical time as on Wednesday afternoon most of the stores in town are closed at this season.

The library will be opened every other week day afternoon except Saturday from 2 to 5. The library will be open each week two evenings from 7 to 9 p. m., Thursday and Saturday.

New books recently purchased are: "The Cup and the Sword," Hobart; "The Cutters," Aldrich; "See Here, Private Hargrove," Hargrove; "Happy Land," Kanton. New books for children: "The Vanishing Shadow" and "The Haunted Attic," by Sutton. The expense of maintenance of the library has grown somewhat with added time open and improvements and contributions from organizations or individuals are appreciated.

Rainy Weather is No Cause For Much Discouragement

The following news story, which was released to daily newspapers of the State last week is reproduced for your information and guidance because it will help you to combat the attitude of defeatism now prevailing among some Victory Gardeners as a result of the adverse weather:

Pennsylvania Victory Gardeners are reassured by the State Council of Defense Victory Garden Committee that the rainy, cool weather which has delayed planting of farm crops as well as home gardens should NOT cause discouragement.

"Most vegetables can be grown successfully after this date," said Dr. Warren B. Mack, executive secretary of the committee. "Practically a full crop of tomatoes and peppers can be grown in all parts of the State if plants are set in the garden the first week in June; in fact, it is the best time to plant in the areas of high altitude and late frosts.

"While the largest crops of late potatoes result from plantings made about May 10 to 15 in central Pennsylvania, later plantings yield nearly as well, up to the first week in June, and the potatoes may be better in appearance—more free of knobby second growth, cracks and hollow centers—than the earlier plantings.

"Bush lima beans may be planted up to the middle of June, and bush string beans will produce a full crop in central Pennsylvania if planted as late as the middle of July.

"Main crop varieties of sweet corn may be planted as late as June 15 in most parts of the State, where the average date of the first killing frost is around October 1. Beets will produce roots of worthwhile size if planted as late as the middle of July or even later, while carrots will attain satisfactory size if planted during the first week in July.

"Late cabbage is properly planted from June 15 to July 1, as are fall celery and broccoli. Cauliflower may be planted 15 days later. The proper time for planting fall radishes, spinach, and turnips is the first of August.

"About the only crops which would not succeed well if planted at the present time or later are peas, onions for mature bulbs, leeks, parsnips, and asparagus."

Elbie Fletcher, Pirates' first baseman, won a newspaper contest as the best schoolboy baseball player to break into the big leagues.

It's important to make Your Home a safer Health Stronghold!

Cultivate the Healthful Habit of Hygienic Home Cleanliness!

HEALTH TODAY is more important than ever. Important to the well-being of your family! Important to the producing power of your country!

Consider this: U.S. Public Health Service estimates that each day illness keeps one million workers from their jobs... delaying production so vital to Victory. That's one reason why health authorities urge you to take greater precautions against germs... germs which can cause sickness, even epidemics. It's a patriotic duty to cooperate!

One efficient precaution is the use of a household disinfectant in the cleansing of home germ "danger zones", especially in kitchen, bathroom, laundry. Yes, and such precaution is a health safeguard... like washing hands, brushing teeth, bathing. Make your home a health stronghold for your family... and for America.

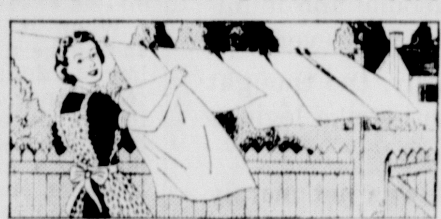

The CLOROX WAY is the easy, effective way to Greater Home Sanitation!

Combat Kitchen Germ Dangers! Kitchens may look clean, yet harbor millions of germs. Clorox disinfects, deodorizes, removes stains from dishes, glassware, tile, enamel, linoleum, wood surfaces; it bleaches and removes stains from dishcloths... makes them hygienically clean.

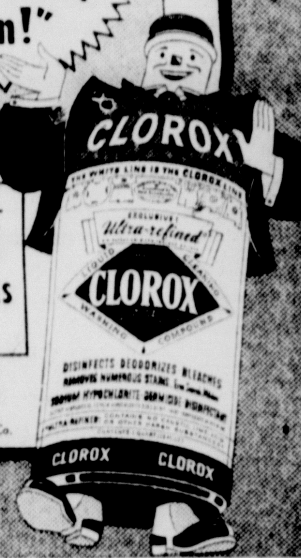

Make Bathrooms Sanitary! Bathrooms are often the most dangerous of all home "danger zones" and may menace health unless made hygienically clean. For added health protection use Clorox in routine cleansing of washbasins, bathtubs, toilets, floors, tile, woodwork.

Linens... Longer Life, Sanitary! Today, when linens must wear longer they need Clorox more than ever. For Clorox lessens rubbing, prolonging life of linens... it gently bleaches white cottons and linens, brightens fast colors, makes them fresh, sanitary... an added safeguard to health.

WHY TAKE CHANCES!

"When it's CLOROX-CLEAN it's hygienically clean!"

CLOROX is ultra-refined, free from caustic, an exclusive quality feature. It is pure, safe, dependable... efficient yet gentle in use... concentrated for economy. Follow directions carefully... avoid waste of a product so valuable in protecting health. There is only one Clorox... order by name.

Panel Demonstration Tuesday To Show Telephone in War

A graphic demonstration of what happens before, during and after an air raid will be the feature of a special civilian defense meeting to be held at 8 p. m. next Tuesday in the auditorium of the Warren High School. All civilian defense workers and Warren residents have been invited.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Warren County Council of Defense and was arranged for by A. M. Gibson, chairman, who will preside. Speakers will include Victor VerMilyea, County Gas Officer, who will demonstrate the use of gas masks, F. W. Waite, Commander U. S. Citizens' Defense Corps, who will discuss Warren County's preparations for an air attack and Burgess B. W. Steber, The V. F. W. National Forge Company Band will play.

The air raid demonstration was developed by the Bell Telephone Company and will be presented by Robert H. Junk, telephone company representative. It shows how the various activities of the civilian defense groups are co-ordinated with military defense plans in the event of an air raid.

Flashing lights, accompanied by sound effects on a 10 by 18 foot panel, show the work by civilian defense workers from the time the first spotter hears the sound of approaching enemy planes until the last bit of damage has been taken care of by emergency squads.

The demonstration starts with the first spotter on approaching planes, showing how the spotter gives the "army flash" telephone call to the nearest filter board, where the information is plotted and passed on to the information center.

As the details are gathered, warning signals are sent out and the telephone wires are busy as key civilian defense leaders are warned of the approaching danger so they may be ready to swing into action without delay.

Other spotters see and hear the planes and send in further information, which is charted on the filter board and at the information center so that the line of flight of the planes can be verified.

As it appears that the planes are approaching the city, the public warning goes out. This signal gives wardens and emergency groups such as civilian police, firemen and bomb squads, time to get to their posts, ready for action. Necessary blackout measures are taken.

During the demonstration bombs can be heard dropping on the darkened city while the red tongues of fire light up damaged sections.

Telephone calls are heard, directing fire squads to one point, sending an ambulance to another, a rescue squad to a third. Meanwhile, the noisy ack-ack fire of the anti-aircraft guns is heard as they attack the enemy.

The demonstration then shows that the work of the civilian defense groups is not completed after the enemy planes have been driven off.

Emergency telephone calls are still keeping the lines busy at the control center as the wardens check over their districts finding new damage. Calls for help still come in and instructions to the various emergency groups must be sent out. Groups already out may be redirected to new trouble spots.

The demonstration shows the relationship of each civilian defense worker to the united defense program and the important part each man and woman plays during an air raid.

It also emphasizes the importance of the telephone in keeping the various groups co-ordinated and the need of keeping telephone lines clear during and for some time after air raids so that there shall be no delay in the completion of emergency calls.

Thinning Out Plants Ups Victory Garden Yield

Lettuce Plants Are Large Enough to Use for Salad, When Ready for Their Second Thinning.

As soon as your seeds have made true leaves (the second pair) you must look them over and make sure that each plant is growing freely, without crowding. The extent to which crowding may exist depends on how thickly you sowed the seeds. If the plants are too close together they must be thinned out and this is one of the hardest jobs a beginner has to do. Even experienced gardeners dislike pulling up and throwing away plants which they have grown.

But it must be done. With the exception of carrots and beets, plants should be thinned to stand at least one inch apart regardless of the distance they are to stand apart in the row when they mature. There are two reasons for this.

First, some vegetables are most delicious when half-mature. By thinning only enough to insure that each plant stands well alone in the row, then allowing them to grow awhile, many will soon reach a stage when they can be harvested for the table and provide some of the most delicious dishes of the year.

Second, it is foolish to discard all excess plants prematurely, when accidents, insects or disease may destroy many which are left. As the plants grow they may be thinned gradually until they stand at the optimum distance from one another and the chances of a full yield are much improved.

Failure of an entire row is not unknown, even to expert gardeners. There may be causes such as freezing, fungus, decay or flooding, which will destroy all seedlings before they reach the surface. The same causes may result in bare spaces in the row. These can sometimes be filled in by transplanting seedlings thinned out elsewhere—but remember that tap-rooted plants such as beets, carrots, and pumpkins can rarely be transplanted while beans, peas and corn are very difficult to transplant.

Carrots need not be thinned out until they are finger size, at which stage they will be more delicious than any time later. If you want a treat for winter, put some of these tiny carrots in a jar. But be careful to thin your carrots early so they will not crowd and intertwine. They will mature well close enough to touch in loose and fertile soil.

Beets can be thinned the first time when their roots have begun to swell, and their tops have grown large enough to make a dish of beet greens. Cook the tiny beets with their tops, for a dish rich in vitamins and delicious in flavor. But thin out the row rapidly, because the beets soon begin to suffer from overcrowding.

Lettuce can be used in bowl salads when the leaves are two inches wide. Take out alternate plants until those remaining stand six inches apart and allow them to mature. Leaf and cos lettuce will make loose heads of green leaves in which the inner leaves are crisp and tender.

Avoid thinning small plants when the soil is dry and crusty. Wet the soil so that the excess plants can be pulled up with a minimum of disturbance to those which are left, but do not pull weeds or tramp the soil when it is muddy.

Two Members of State Game Comm. Take Over Affairs

McKeesport, June 10.—(P)—Ross L. Leffler, one of three members of the Pennsylvania Game Commission whose term did not lapse with the recent legislative adjournment, disclosed today that he and Commissioner Robert Lamberton of Franklin "have taken over" commission affairs.

Leffler, who was president of the commission until January and challenged legality of a meeting which named former Commissioner O. Ben Gipple of Harrisburg in his place, said he and Lamberton reassumed authority at a meeting three weeks ago in Pittsburgh. The commission has lacked a quorum since the legislature adjourned.

"It is our position we have held these offices, president and vice president (Lamberton was commissioned vice president with Leffler), right along and have never vacated them," declared Leffler in a statement.

"There was an election to which we were not invited on January 28. Our contention is there was not a legal quorum and therefore no business could be transacted. I have asked the attorney general for a ruling but have not yet received one."

Gipple was named president at the meeting attended by himself and former Commissioners A. J. Hanes of St. Marys, Ernest E. Harwood of Hazleton; S. Harold Fisher of Huntingdon and C. E. Phillips of Sunbury, all appointees of former Governor James whose names were withdrawn from the senate by Governor Martin when he assumed office.

Leffler contended in January that Hanes' appointment after "he legislature convened disqualified him from voting. All five automatically left office May 8 when the assembly adjourned."

The news of the Don Basin aerial war came on the heels of German raids on the Volkhov front 60 miles southeast of Leningrad, where 24 German planes were reported shot down. From 150 to 160 German planes were declared destroyed in Russian bombing raids on German airmen Tuesday night. The Russians said they lost a total of 26 planes in the engagements.

Land action plays a minor role. Struthers-Wells and National Forge Clash Again Sunday

Gosh!

Meeting of Local Independent Outfits for Second Time Will Draw Fans in Superiority Test

The second clash of the town's two independent teams, the National Forge and Struthers-Wells, will be held Sunday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock on Russell Field.

After the Forge's narrow squeeze past the local defense crew last Sunday, fans about town are set to witness the second match with enthusiasm running high.

In winning last week's games, the Forge didn't show their former unmatched superiority and had a tough fight on their hands before emerging with a 6-5 decision.

Struthers-Wells' newly formed aggregation, in their first independent battle, were handicapped by a couple of final inning errors, largely due to the shape of the field, and feel they can turn the tables this time.

LAMOTTA FAVORED TO BEAT ZIVIC TONIGHT

Pittsburgh, June 10.—(P)—They're betting 7 to 5 that "youth will be served" tonight when 21-year-old Jake Lamotta, the "Bronx one-man riot," meets 30-year-old Fritz Zivic in a scheduled 10-round go at Forbes Field.

The odds had been 11 to 5, but that was before word got around that Jake would weigh in at 157 or maybe 156 instead of his former 160. Zivic expects to tip the scales at 151 and Jake's vanishing four pounds might make a whale of a difference.

Then, too, some of the odds-makers remembered that Fritzie hasn't lost a bout in his home town in the last four years. And maybe they got to thinking about all the things Fritzie has learned in the 169 fights of his 12-year in-and-out ring career.

Presbys Are Outscored By Methodists

The game previously rained out in the Y. M. C. A.-Church league between First M. E. and First Presbyterian teams was played last evening at Beatty Field.

The Presbys showing a young team came out on the short end of the score which was 13-2. Outscored though they were the Presbyterians were a courageous lot and played hard throughout the entire game.

White started off for the losers in the pitching box but was too wild and was replaced by "Tink" Bean, Whites' chief weakness was that he seemed to forget that there were 9 other players on the team and tried too hard to strike out every batter and in so doing threw them every place except across the plate. Bean came in and took it easy and depended on his teammates to back him up with the result that they did. Only three runs were scored after Bean came to the mound in the third inning.

Rosenquist pitched for First M. E. and did his usual capable job. He had excellent backing up by his teammates who whipped the ball around like a bunch of champions. It was quite a different team from that of Tuesday night when at that time they went down to defeat 11-2 at the hands of Grace M. E. Coach "Mush" Johnson must have taken the boys out in the woodshed and talked turkey to them because they played heads-up ball the entire game.

Tonight the Presbys take the field again and this time against the strong St. Joe team. It is hardly expected that they will do any better against this aggregation than they did against First M. E. but one thing will be evident and that will be their determination to play as well as they can.

Friday brings Episcopal against First Baptist neither of whom have won a game to date.

Armstrong And Angott Will Tangle

By SID FEDER

New York, June 10.—(P)—When it comes to corny comedy, Henry Armstrong and Sammy Angott firmly believe the guy who said "they never come back" hit such an all-time low he'd have to reach up to tie his shoe-laces.

As a couple of clouters who have not only started back, but actually have arrived, the buzz saw and the swarthy socker from Pennsylvania, who are going to cut up a piece of change in the very restricted neighborhood of $75,000 tomorrow night in Madison Square Garden, are having quite a horse laugh over it. At those prices, naturally, you can afford to laugh. Just like Jim Braddock did, and Billy Petrolle and Bob Fitzsimmons they're proving—and getting paid for it—that as a workable rule, that old chest-

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 10.—(P)—A reader's query about the baseball hall of fame recently led Clyde McBride of the Kansas City Star to suggest that a lot of the old-time ball players hadn't received their just desserts in the balloting for the honor roll at Cooperstown because the old-time baseball writers weren't around to tell of their feats.

"If Chadbourne, Phelon, Bulger, Sam Crane and others could come back, wrote McBride, "you would see he knowing about early stars who played the game with all the daring and stamina and skill of the modern stars, a different game perhaps, but nevertheless baseball." ... well, there's one who doesn't have to come back, Hugh Fullerton, senior. He doesn't rate himself as an old-timer yet, but he used to pal around with those guys and he can tell you plenty about the stars of the nineties and even before.

Matter of Opinion

The real "old timers" swore by such players as Jere Denny and Fred Pfeiffer, star infielders of the 80's, and Mike "King" Kelly, colorful catcher who in his day probably was as famous as Babe Ruth.

Pop doesn't agree on these choices, nor does he agree entirely with the most recent baseball writers' ballot on which Frank Chance, Rube Waddell, Ed Walsh, Miller Huggins and Ed Deleahanty came the closest of those who failed election. ... Most of them will get the two thumpers finished, the boys actually stood and applauded for minutes at a time. This is something like Alsab applauding as Whirlaway wins a race.

stunt of having two men hit grounders as rapidly as they could while he fielded them, moving in steadily until he was almost on top of the plate. ... For third base Pop's picks are Jimmy Collins, Bill Bradley and Buck Weaver.

Outfield Is Covered

With Ty Cobb, Babe Ruth, Tris Speaker and Willie Keeler already elected and Deleahanty and Hughie Duffy pretty well up on the lists, it seems that the Hall of Fame has a pretty good stock of outfielders. ... "The best outfield of them all," Pop maintains, was Duffy, Billy Hamilton and Stahl of Boston—they'd steal 300 bases a year. ... Another great combination was Pittsburgh's Fred Clarke—"a great hitter, a great runner and a great manager." Clarence Beams and Tommy Leach. ... As individuals, however, they're like Jess Burkett and the almost-forgotten George Stone of the Browns in falling short of the Hall-of-Fame class. ... As Bill Brandt points out, only the super-star belong in there.

To the Woman Who Asks:
How'll I Have Enough Fats
to Save for Gunpowder?

IT'S EASY TO SEE what you're up against. Cooking fats are rationed. You're saving them of course. But you want to use them over again. And that's perfectly right! The government doesn't want your fats—even to make gunpowder—until you've got all the food use out of them. But when you have—every spoonful, every drop is desperately wanted. And not a housewife in America has too little to save!

LISTEN! Just one lowly tablespoon of fat—waste fat, the kind you used to throw down the drain—will make five machine gun bullets for our men at the front! That from just one tablespoon! And it doesn't matter whether it's pan drippings, the skimmings of a soup, old shortening or any other kind of used fat. It's a sin against your country to throw it out!

AND DON'T WORRY about what kind of can you use, or how long it takes to fill it up. Any kind of can will do—even a soup can! Keep a few on hand as you empty them. They'll go to tin salvage anyway when you take them to the butcher. But above all, and no matter how long it takes to fill up your tin, take it to your meat dealer. Take it in person, and be proud to do it—for the boys who need those shells at the front.

It is understood that underground travel time was reckoned by O'Neill and Lewis at $150 a day for inside men. By giving outside workers the benefit of any raise, the overall average per man would be brought down to about $130, informed sources said. Outside men constitute from 10 to 20 per cent of the total employees.

Lewis said the O'Neill offer the "first bona fide and constructive offer of a new wage agreement" to emanate from three months of conferences.

more confusion into the already complicated wage negotiations, which were described by both the operators and Lewis as "farcical". Each side accused the other of being too stubborn.

The War Labor Board (WLB) reiterated the dispute today, holding a public hearing. However, Lewis' miners sent no representatives.

Appalachian operators, except for the central Pennsylvania group, formally reported to the WLB their inability to reach an agreement on the miners' underground travel pay demand and the other unresolved issues referred to collective bargaining by the board on May 25.

The piecemeal pact was affirmed last night by both Lewis and O'Neill, spokesmen for northern operators, who in this case was acting only for the central Pennsylvania group which operates in the Clearfield belt.

Lewis said he was ready to offer the same terms to the other operators, employing 450,000 men. The labor chief said he believed they would accept unless "there is political and financial interference with the producers of coal of larger tonnage." He didn't explain this statement.

The separate agreement must be approved by the War Labor Board which called a public hearing today on all the phases of the entire row. Lewis, who has ignored the WLB, conceded that the settlement was subject to "all properly authorized government agencies". With WLB approval, the pact could form a basis for general peace in the coal fields, disrupted twice by walkouts in recent weeks.

It is understood that underground travel time was reckoned by O'Neill and Lewis at $150 a day for inside men. By giving outside workers the benefit of any raise, the overall average per man would be brought down to about $

Policies of OPA Denounced At Meeting of Oil Operators

Bradford, June 10.—(A)—Policies of the Office of Price Administration are "heading the oil industry towards the most gigantic monopoly in the history of America," says Walter S. Hallanan, president of the Plymouth Oil Company and member of the Petroleum Industry War Council.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Bradford District Pennsylvania Oil Producers Association last night, Hallanan asserted:

"OPA policies are formulated by bright young men who think in mental vacuum, ignore every lesson of experience, and base facts on untested theory."

These policies, the speaker said, are forcing small oil firms to sell out to a few big ones.

"Those few major companies," he continued, "today control almost 75 per cent of the nation's oil reserves, as compared to less than 50 per cent controlled by them two years ago."

Hallanan said the price of crude oil must be increased in order to stimulate exploratory drilling, and declared the OPA has ignored this necessity.

"The oil industry is not going to take this kind of treatment lying down," he went on. "We are going to continue to produce to the fullest extent of our ability, but we are going to let the American people know the dangerous road down which they are being taken by government bureaucrats, many of whom have a studied and determined purpose to destroy private industry in this country and to substitute the very kind of state socialism or fascism which our soldiers are fighting to destroy."

Daily oil production in District 1—Pennsylvania, West Virginia and western New York—has dropped from $2,000 to 75,000 barrels in the last year, Hallanan said.

The 200 oilmen attending the meeting elected 40 members to the association's board and adopted resolutions expressing appreciation of the "leadership and understanding" of Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes, calling for additional research and reclamation facilities for the area, and requesting an increase in crude oil prices.

Committee On Flag Day Plans Meeting

The committee in charge of Warren's Flag Day observance next Monday evening will hold a meeting Friday at 8:30 p. m. at the Elk club to complete final details.

According to the official orders printed in another page in this issue there will be five musical organizations in the parade which is scheduled to move at 7:30 o'clock from the corner of Hickory street and Fourth avenue. It is expected that there will be at least a score of marching units, and there will be no motor driven vehicles.

Hon. Leon H. Gavin, congressman from the 20th district, will be the speaker and it has been learned that he will address a similar gathering in Bradford on Sunday. He is expected to arrive in Warren either Sunday night or Monday morning.

The committee called attention today to the fact that it is still possible for marching units to enter the parade, and these may be added when the official orders are printed again on Monday.

LOCAL FORESTER IS SENT TO NEW FIELD

Randal McCain, with the U. S. Forest Service here for the past five years, has transferred to Arcade, N. Y., where he will be engaged in a new type of forestry undertaking.

The Arcade territory represents a new project set up under the Norris-Doxey Act and known as the farmer-forester program. Its purpose is to assist the farmer in getting his timber to the proper markets for use in the war program; also for appraisal of his woodlots for cutting according to the best forestry practices.

Mr. McCain came to Warren January 1, 1938 on a transfer from the Mendocino, Calif., National Forest and has been employed here as wild life technician and public relations assistant for the Allegheny National Forest area.

He has been much in demand as a speaker on forest matters and has shown his beautiful colored movies to many local groups.

It is stated at the local forest service office that there will be no replacement to his position for the war's duration.
